1. The Basics of UPS Alcohol Shipping

Like a young brie to a light bodied white wine or a dark chocolate to an aged cognac, UPS can complement your alcohol business and take it to another level. From barrel to bottle to your customers around the world, put your craftsmanship into the trusted hands of a premium carrier.

By pairing your alcohol with our services you can enhance the delivery experience for your customer, whether you ship to businesses or consumers, while simplifying customs compliance for your international shipments.

General requirements for shipping alcohol with UPS

Sign an alcohol agreement

To start shipping alcohol with UPS you must first sign a UPS agreement for the transportation of alcohol and you must be licensed and authorized under the applicable laws to sell and ship alcohol. Please consult your UPS representative to sign an alcohol agreement.

Ship with UPS shipping tools

Once a contractual agreement is finalized, alcohol shipments must be processed with a shipping system such as UPS WorldShip, CampusShip, UPS Shipping API, ups.com shipping or a UPS Ready application.

Ensure excise compliance

Alcohol shipments must comply with excise duty regulations and must include dedicated documents. Restrictions for intra-EU and international shipments apply as set out in sections 3 and 4 of this guide.

Ensure compliance with legal drinking age limits when shipping to consumers

When shipping alcohol to a consumer you must select the Adult Signature Required Delivery Confirmation option to ensure the recipient is of legal drinking age in the destination country. UPS will obtain the adult recipient's signature and provide you with a printed copy. You may also view the adult recipient's signature online. Adult recipients must have reached the legal age of adulthood in the destination country. Higher age limits may apply where the legal age of adulthood is under 21 years of age.

Solutions that enhance the shipping & delivery experience

Protect your alcohol shipments

UPS offers increased liability for alcohol shipments up to the full retail value of the goods with Customized Declared Value¹. Enjoy the ease of choosing transactional coverage for shipments with fees incorporated directly into your UPS Invoice. Check with your UPS representative for more information and product availability.

Convenience around the corner with collection points

For more convenience and lower cost delivery to consumers, you can ship alcohol to a collection point. The UPS Access Point network, which spans across Europe's key markets as well as the US and Canada, is comprised of retail locations such as local shops and supermarkets that act as collection points for UPS shipments.

This benefits you and your customer. You get more cost-efficient shipping by reducing the amount of home deliveries. Your customer gets more flexibility to collect their parcels for a convenient location that fits into their routine. The reduction in home deliveries can also reduce the carbon footprint of each shipment.

Integrate this delivery option into your online shop's checkout flow using UPS API or platform plug-ins.

Shoppers can then see all nearby locations and choose the one most convenient for them.

When creating an alcohol shipment to a UPS Access Point location, please ensure you select all the following shipment options in your UPS shipping system:

1. ISC Alcohol Beverages
2. Adult Signature Required
3. Hold at UPS Access Point

Do you have a physical retail location? Then you can apply to have it added to the UPS Access Point network. Find out how on ups.com.

1. Customized Declared Value is not available in all areas. Check with your UPS representative for more information on product availability.

2. Bottle Packaging

Guidelines for good packaging

You can help to ensure that your wine, beer and spirits shipments arrive safely and on time with the following packaging guidelines and procedures developed from UPS research. All shipments must meet UPS packaging requirements for bottle shipments.

UPS accepts inner packaging of moulded polystyrene (EPS) foam, folded corrugated tray, retention packaging with PE film or moulded fibre tray.

Each packaging component secures the bottles into the centre of the shipping container away from the side walls. Sturdy outer corrugated containers are required to keep the product secure.

UPS branded and certified packaging

We offer UPS branded packaging solutions for wine and sparkling wine to provide maximum protection for your packages.

UPS approved bottle packaging must pass the ISTA 3A or DIN EN 22248 standards.

Please reach out to the UPS customer service centre or your UPS representative for further information on packaging certification and packaging solutions available in your country.

Recommended types of bottle packaging

Polystyrene inner packaging with corrugated outer box

Pre-moulded polystyrene glass bottle shippers provide maximum inner protection for different type shaped glass bottles.

All polystyrene packaging must be shipped inside an appropriately sized outer corrugated box with all closure flaps sealed securely top and bottom with pressure sensitive tape.

Retention inner packaging with PE film in corrugated outer box

This system consists of a corrugated outer cardboard box with a cardboard inlay with PE-film that functions as a retention packaging system.

The bottle is retained by a transparent film that keeps the bottle in a fixed position and protects it from shock. Retention systems are more flexible than polystyrene and can to some extent adjust to different bottle shapes.

Corrugated inner packaging with corrugated outer box

All paper-based packaging solutions should be pre-shipment tested by the manufacturer to meet UPS package design and test lab procedure requirements. UPS approved bottle packaging must pass the ISTA 3A or DIN EN 22248 standard.

All die-cut corrugated inner components must fit snugly inside an appropriate size outer corrugated box with all closure flaps sealed securely top and bottom with pressure sensitive tape using a double T taping method.

3. Shipping Within the European Union (domestically and cross-border)

General requirements

Alcohol may be shipped domestically and across borders within the European Union, business to business (B2B) and business to consumer (B2C), excluding any areas that are not part of the EU customs area or the EU common system of Value Added Tax (VAT).

UPS offers shipping alcoholic beverages within the EU under the following conditions:

- The alcoholic beverages have an alcohol content below 70% by volume
- The alcoholic beverages are packaged in appropriate receptacles of less than 5 litres
- The total quantity of alcoholic beverages per shipment does not exceed 100 litres
- Alcoholic beverages may be shipped with excise duty paid or under duty suspension
- Shipping under duty suspension is not possible within or from Latvia and Malta
- UPS does not accept domestic alcohol shipments in Finland and Sweden
- For B2C shipments to Sweden, shippers must be registered as “distance seller” or “temporary distance seller” with the Swedish tax Agency
- B2B shipments under duty suspension regime must be registered as “distance seller” or “temporary distance seller” with the Swedish Tax Agency
- For B2B shipments to Finland, the importer must hold a license for wholesale, use, retail sale or serving

Excise Duties

Alcohol is subject to excise duties in all EU Member States. In general excise duty must be paid in the Member State of consumption. To facilitate this, excise goods are transported from one Member State to another under excise duty suspension. Until they reach their destination.

If excise goods have already been released for consumption (and therefore the duty is paid) in one Member State and are then transported to another as final destination, a system of reimbursement is in place to avoid double taxation.

All excise goods which are transported intra-EU must be accompanied by one of the following required documents:

Countries	Shipment with Excise Duty Paid	Shipment under Excise Duty Suspension Regime
Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Republic of Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden	Yes	Yes
Latvia, Malta	Yes	No

- Electronic Administrative Document (eAD) for goods which are under duty suspension or

- Simplified Administrative Document (SAD) for goods on which excise duty has already been paid in the Member State where they were dispatched

This documentation allows authorities to monitor and ensure the payment of applicable duties, and is needed for shippers to recover excise duty, or in the case of excise duty suspended goods, avoid payment of excise duty prior to shipping to other EU countries. If requested, shippers must provide proof of payment of excise duty or application of the appropriate suspension regime. Please note that UPS does not discharge accompanying documents nor does UPS return these documents to the shipper.

Find out more about excise duty regimes on the European Commission website.

Shipping under excise duty suspension

Shipments under excise duty suspension must be filed into the EMCS (Excise Movement and Control System). The shipments must be accompanied by an eAD. The shipper must be an authorized warehouse keeper, sending from a tax warehouse. They have to provide a guarantee for the excise goods they dispatch. Find out more about the EMCS on the European Commission website.

The consignee is responsible for the payment of excise duty in the destination country and the discharge of the accompanying eAD. Once the eAD is properly discharged, the seller can apply to get their guarantee released.

Shipping with excise duty paid

Shipments which are released for consumption in one Member State (and therefore the duty is already paid) and subsequently transported to another Member State, must be accompanied by a SAD.

For B2B shipments the consignee is responsible for the payment of excise duty in the destination country and the discharge of the accompanying SAD. Once the SAD is properly discharged, the seller can apply for a refund of the excise duty that was paid in the country of dispatch.

For distance selling (sale to a private person in another Member State, ie. B2C movements) the principle of taxation in the Member State of destination applies. In this case it is the vendor who is responsible for ensuring the payment of excise duty in the destination country prior to shipping.

The vendor or their tax representative must register their identity and guarantee payment of excise duty with the competent authorities in the destination country. Most Member States required businesses to have a tax representative before shipping to private persons. The excise duty becomes chargeable at the time of delivery.

To avoid double taxation, the EU regulations foresee a system of reimbursement of the excise duty paid in one Member State, subject to conditions to be determined by that Member State.

Shipments destined for private persons in other Member States must be accompanied by an invoice or shipping document with proof that the excise duty of the Member State of consumption was paid or secured. This can be the name and tax number of a tax representative in the country of destination or the seller's own tax registration if they are registered in the destination country.

Domestic Excise Shipping

Domestic shipments typically do not require any special excise documents or fiscal marks, except for the following circumstances:

Italy and Portugal:

- Shipments including alcohol need accompanying documentation
- Bottled intermediate products and bottled spirits require fiscal marks

France and Spain

- All alcoholic beverages require fiscal marks
- In Spain an exemption applies to spirits with an alcohol content of 1.5% or less and a volume of 0.5 litres or less

Compliance Through Fiscal Representation

UPS can help you implement a fiscal representation solution to ensure VAT and excise duty compliance for your intra-EU shipments.

For more information, please reach out to your UPS sales representative or contact us at fiscalrep@ups.com.

1. Shipping Internationally (non-EU to EU, EU to non-EU, non-EU to non-EU)

Required customs information

Each international alcohol shipment. Requires a commercial invoice and alcohol label with the following information:

- | | |
|--|---|
| a) Merchandise description in details | g) Harmonized Tariff Code |
| b) Quantity | h) Winery information (wine) |
| c) Packaging specification (in bottle, can, etc) | i) Malt concentration (beer) |

International shipments of alcohol across a customs border will be subject to non-routine customs clearance charges from UPS, which can vary based on the specifics of each shipment. These import and export charges are laid out in the UPS Service and Tariff Guide in the section 'How can UPS help with international customs clearance?'

Solutions that simplify customs clearance

Streamline customs clearance with digital customs documentation

Less paper, faster customs clearance. That's what UPS Paperless™ Invoice helps you achieve for your international shipments. When you submit your commercial invoices and other customs documentation electronically, customs authorities can start clearing your shipments before they reach the border. UPS Paperless Invoice is compatible with all UPS shipping systems.

Save time and cost with consolidated customs clearance

If you ship multiple parcels across a customs border to multiple recipients, the UPS World Ease® consolidated clearance solution can help you save time, money and paperwork compared to clearing each shipment separately.

Please note that shipments containing alcohol should never be consolidated with shipments that don't contain alcohol as this may cause customs delays.

Contact your UPS sales representative or visit ups.com for more information.

Common requirements when importing to the EU

When shipping from a non-EU country to a country in the EU, consider the following:

Our contractual service covers the customs clearance of alcohol at the port of entry where duty, VAT and excise duty must be paid. A customs clearance of alcohol for free circulation with a subsequent transport under excise duty suspension regime is not possible unless stated otherwise in the country specific requirements section.

Customs clearance in an EU country with subsequent transport to another EU Member State is not part of the contractual service unless otherwise stated.

Alcoholic beverages are subject to excise duty. Excise duty applies usually on the amount of beverage and the percentage of alcohol. The calculation of excise duty for beer depends on the country. Some countries calculate on percentage of alcohol, others calculate on degree Plato. The information must be shown on the commercial invoice to help determine the excise duty.

The importation of alcoholic beverages and alcohol products are subject to the presentation of:

- Certificate drawn up by a competent body, included on a list to be made public by the Commission, in the product's country of origin
- An analysis report drawn up by a body or department designated by the product's country of origin, in so far as the product is intended for direct human consumption.
- A certificate or analysis report does not need to be presented for products originating in and exported from third countries in labelled containers of no more than five litres, fitted with a non-reusable closing device, where the total quantity transported, whether in single or multiple consignments, does not exceed 100 litres.
- The import of alcoholic beverages and alcohol products is regulated by a market organization of the EU with rules on labelling and presentation of alcoholic beverages and additional documentation. The labels of alcoholic beverages and alcohol products must show some of the following compulsory particulars:
 - The category of the product
 - The protected designation or protected geographical indication if applicable
 - The actual alcohol strength by volume
 - An indication of provenance
 - An indication of the bottler or an indication of the producer or vendor in case of sparkling wine and other product categories of sparkling wine

The rules are stated in EU regulation 2009/491 which can be found on the EU website.

Country specific requirements when importing to the EU
